Details:*Chief Guest/ Guest of Honor: Mr. M. Ashokkumar*Speakers: AP-III/Mechanical Engineering*Report(maximum 250 words)*

The Department of Mechanical Engineering, in association with the Institution of Engineers (India), organized a special event to commemorate the “International Day of Sign Languages – Poster Presentation Contest” on 23 September 2025. The programme was conducted with the aim of creating awareness about the importance of sign languages in promoting inclusive communication and supporting the rights and identity of the deaf community. The event also encouraged students to express social responsibility alongside technical learning.

As part of the contest, four students from the First Year Mechanical Engineering actively participated and presented posters highlighting the significance of sign languages, inclusivity, and accessibility in society. The students showcased their creativity, research skills, and ability to convey meaningful messages through visual representations. Their presentations reflected a strong sense of social awareness and effective communication, which were well appreciated by the audience.

The event was graced by Mr. M. Ashokkumar, AP-III/Mechanical Engineering, who served as the Chief Guest. In his address, he emphasized the need for empathy, inclusiveness, and social sensitivity among future engineers. He encouraged students to actively take part in such awareness programmes, highlighting the role of engineers in contributing positively to society beyond technical advancements.

The programme was efficiently coordinated by Dr. S. Maharajan, ASP-I/Mechanical Engineering, whose efforts ensured the smooth conduct of the event. The poster presentation contest concluded successfully, leaving a meaningful impact on students by sensitizing them to the importance of inclusive communication and reinforcing the social responsibilities of engineers.
